

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

PORT AVENTURA, S.A., a leisure activity and hotel trade company, is voluntarily committed to carrying out its activity with the maximum respect for the environment and its surroundings.

With the aim of honouring its commitment to protecting the environment and the continuous improvement of environmental results, Port Aventura, S.A., as a company, founds its main principles of engagement on the following:

1. To ensure that the applicable environmental regulations are complied with and exceeded, along with the voluntary requirements to which it subscribes, making them form part of its General Policy.
2. To assign all the means and responsibilities necessary to guarantee objectives and tasks achievement that lead to a continuous improvement of our environmental performance, developing processes that help to minimise and prevent the environmental impacts of the activities that are carried out.
3. To constitute an environmental team, in which all departments are represented on a consultative and executive basis, whose end objective is to ensure that environmental objectives are met, and to establish thus, foundations for respect for the environment and natural heritage.
4. To educate, train, promote and make the company staff aware, at all levels, in order to create an ambience favourable to progress in environmental matters.
5. To spread our Environmental Policy to all the people that work for the organization or in its name, including contractors and providers and to watch over the compliance with our environmental rules.
6. To evaluate, from each Company Department, all the environmental aspects of their activities as well as the impact of new projects.
7. To develop, as far as possible, projects that may involve our visitors in respect for the environment and to make the public aware of the Company's Environmental Policy.
8. To promote and commit ourselves to minimising energy consumption, as well as minimising waste generation, giving priority to recycling and reusage.
